General Instructions

The readings are divided into Cycle 1 and Cycle 2. Each Cycle has an Old Testament and a New Testament Reading for each day of the year. A single Psalm is provided each day to be read with both/either Cycle 1 and Cycle 2.

Readings that are specially marked with a single asterisk (*) should always be read in the morning and readings with a double asterisk () should always be read in the evening.

Some suggested reading plans are on the following page.

How To Determine Which Readings To Do

The readings are divided into 10 sections as follows:

Advent
Christmas
After Epiphany
Lent
Holy Week
Easter Week
Eastertide (2nd-5th Weeks of Easter)
Eastertide (6th & 7th Weeks of Easter)
Pentecost Week
After Pentecost

You should begin by finding the section that corresponds to the current liturgical season and then find today's date in that section.

From there, you will always move forward to the next reading (remembering Lot's wife, never look backwards to a previous date). In this way, you will find that determining the reading for any date is very simple; you simply find the section corresponding to the liturgical season then find the day's date.

On p. 95 there is a discussion to help in determining the liturgical season and section.

Some Suggested Reading Plans

One Year Plan (4 lessons + a Psalm each day)

Read the Cycle 1 readings & the Psalm each morning;
then read the Cycle 2 readings & the Psalm each evening.

The following year, swap and read Cycle 2 in the morning and Cycle 1 in the evening.

Two Year Plan (2 lessons + a Psalm each day)

Read the Cycle 1 readings & the Psalm one year;
then read the Cycle 2 readings & the Psalm the next year.

Three Year Plan (1 lesson + a Psalm each day)

Read the first lesson from Cycle 1 the first year;
then read the first lesson from Cycle 2 the second year;
then read the second lesson from Cycle 2 the third year.

Read the Psalm along with the readings each day.

Join us each day at the trinitymission.org for prayer and to listen to these Scriptures read aloud.

Help Determining the Liturgical Season and Section

The simplest way is to visit trinitymission.org. There you will find the date, the season, and today's readings to verify you are in the right place.

However, for those without internet access, the following will be helpful:

Advent begins on the Sunday closest to November 30th (which is the Feast of St. Andrew). Advent runs from that Sunday (whatever its date may be) through Christmas Eve.

Christmas begins on December 25th and runs 12 days ending on January 5th.

Epiphany is January 6th. The season following Epiphany runs until Ash Wednesday. Ash Wednesday varies from year to year according to Easter. Simply understood, Easter is the Sunday following the first full moon of spring. However it's best to check an official source for the date of Easter.

Lent begins on Ash Wednesday. Although Lent formally runs through Holy Saturday (the day before Easter), for this book the section title Lent ends on the Saturday before Palm Sunday. Then Palm Sunday begins the next section.

Holy Week runs from Palm Sunday through Holy Saturday.

Easter Week runs from Easter Sunday until the following Saturday.

Eastertide runs seven weeks starting on Easter Sunday. The Sunday following Easter is "the Second Sunday of Easter" etc. For the purposes of this lectionary, the sixth and seventh Sundays of Easter have a separate section so that there can be particular readings for the Ascension and for the Rogation Days (days of special prayer and supplication) leading up to Ascension.

Pentecost is the end of Eastertide and the beginning of what we call Ordinary time. Pentecost Sunday is the eighth Sunday after Easter. The Sunday following Pentecost is Trinity Sunday and for the purposes of this book, Trinity begins the section title "after Pentecost."
